MARCUS HUFF

DIRECTOR OF DESIGN, CONSTRUCTION & ENGINEERING

Marcus Huff is the Director of Design, Construction & Engineering for the East Jefferson Development Corporation and is currently responsible for establishing and executing the design and construction process, procedures, and implementation efforts for the Jefferson-Chalmers projects.

Mr. Huff is an implementation leader who has worked on over $2 Billion in capital projects and directly managed over $300 Million of residential, commercial, and institutional projects. With a background of over fifteen years of design and construction experience, he looks to bring this experience to supporting Inclusive Development that directly benefits the communities being served.

Mr. Huff’s experience includes program planning, pre-development, pre-construction, construction, and closeout.

Mr. Huff is a native Detroiter and a product of Detroit Public Schools (“DPS”). He also worked on the Detroit voter-approved $500.5 million DPS Bond Program for school capital improvement projects throughout the city. During this time, he also led the Student Summer Worker Program which employed over 150 Detroit High School students during the life of the Program. Mr. Huff is a graduate of the Detroit High School for the Fine and Performing Arts. He received a Bachelors in Science in Architecture from the University of Michigan and a Master’s degree in Construction Engineering Management from Lawrence Technological University. He's happily married to his wife of 15 years and they have three children together.
